AIMS AND SCOPE

The Journal of Fundamental Studies (JOFS) is an international, peer-reviewed, open-access academic journal dedicated to publishing high-quality original research across the humanities, social sciences, economics, and legal studies. The journal provides a platform for scholars, researchers, and practitioners to share fundamental theoretical insights and empirical findings that address complex global and regional challenges. JOFS prioritizes interdisciplinary approaches and seeks to foster an international dialogue that bridges academic theory with practical policy implementation.

PEER REVIEW POLICY

To maintain the highest standards of scientific integrity, all research articles submitted to JOFS undergo a rigorous editorial review process. Initial screening is conducted by the Editorial Board to ensure alignment with the journal's scope and formatting requirements. Subsequently, manuscripts are evaluated by independent experts in the relevant field. The Editor-in-Chief makes the final decision regarding publication based on the reviewers' recommendations. To demonstrate our commitment to transparency and scientific integrity, the editorial reviews for each accepted manuscript are published alongside the final article.
